Rally Handbook
2011

Message from the Irish Division Chairman

Another year is upon us already and a quick preview of the contents of this handbook will show that there is something for everyone in the rallies organised by your three Centres. Already I have pencilled in some of the weekends on offer myself and I am looking forward to the year ahead even before it has started at all.

The three Centres have been busy putting the contents of this handbook together; it is important that you the rallying member support these events. If you have better or alternative venues, do please contact your Committee Members, they are always looking for new venues and more members to run rallies.

If you are a member who has never rallied with us before, you are really missing out on an aspect of caravanning, which is enjoyable. If you have young children, the safety and friendship your child can experience on the rally field is hard to beat. Please though, as a matter of courtesy, do book in with the relevant rally marshal at least one week before any rally and if you cannot make the rally do please contact your rally marshal and book out. Rallies can often be fully booked so you could be doing a fellow caravanner out of a place at an event.

On a practical note, when it comes to our Centre Committees, the same people seem to do most of the work most of the time. Each Centre struggles in trying to encourage new people to take Committee positions. This was particularly true last year (2010) for the Leinster Centre. It could be any one of our Centres another year.

I am not certain what the solution to this issue is. Without the generosity of people's time, rallies and events would never be organised. If everyone spreads the workload, no one person is unduly burdened. If one Centre fails to elect a Committee, the knock on effect to the other Centres could be fatal for us all. As well as losing a say on how your Centre is run, the ultimate could be that all three Centres fold and leave us with no Club activities to attend within the Irish Division.

I for one would wonder how much caravanning activity I would have left, certainly very little off-season, if this were to happen. Would I even stay caravanning? What I do promise is that I will do my utmost to promote caravanning within our Division over the coming year. I encourage you to do the same and if called upon to help out, please do not hesitate to do so. If you have enjoyed rallying with your Centre, this is payback time. Your help is indeed much needed.

Watch the Welcome Page of the Irish Division Website for updates of activities that may be of interest to you and as ever. Safe Caravanning during the coming year.

Paul Cahill

Irish Division Chairman
